Father Karl's Reflection

Seventeenth Sunday in Ordinary Time

People who are native to North Texas are well-acquainted with living through the hot dry times that come every summer. We know, that unless it cannot be avoided, that we should not go outside in the heat of the day. We know that if we must be outside we must be prepared—we need to constantly drink water—we need to stay in the shade. If we must work in the heat of the day we should wear a hat and even long sleeves to protect us from the heat. We know how to survive. Consider the contrast of the situation we encounter in the Gospel of John today.

The people who were following Jesus were well aware of their surroundings. They knew that there was no place to go and buy food or water. It is unimaginable that they would have left their homes unprepared—but this is what the Gospel seems to indicate. It seems that at the end of the day this multitude of persons found themselves in an isolated place without anything to eat or drink; until a young person offers the disciples a small amount of food—then the miracle can begin! Traditionally we have heard that Jesus simply takes the few loaves and fishes and multiplies them. Some scripture scholars argue that Jesus inspires the crowd to share freely the food they had carried along.

The miracle, however it happened, began when someone appeared and offered what little they had; even when it was clearly inadequate in the face of the obvious need. It took a great deal of faith to offer so little in the face of such great need. This is the real story of our own personal discipleship—we come with what little we have and through the ministry of Christ great things can happen. We come with our brokenness and inadequacy and Jesus is able to transform it into something that can nourish and sustain many.

It takes courage to share our faith with the people around us. The father who is able show his faith to his children, even in the smallest way, is an inspiration to his family. The mother, who by word and example, demonstrates trust in God teaches her family. Husbands and wives who pray together proclaim that God has a place in the home. We don't need to be great and powerful preachers or teachers, we don't need "perfect" faith—we need to offer what little we have and let the miracle begin!

Decimo Séptimo Domingo del Tiempo Ordinario

Las personas que son nativas del norte de Texas están bien familiarizadas con vivir en los tiempos calurosos y secos que se producen todos los veranos. Sabemos que, a menos que no se pueda evitar, no deberíamos salir en el calor del día. Sabemos que, si debemos estar afuera, debemos estar preparados, necesitamos beber agua constantemente, debemos permanecer a la sombra. Si tenemos que trabajar en el calor del día, debemos usar un sombrero e incluso mangas largas para protegernos del calor. Sabemos cómo sobrevivir. Considera el contraste de la situación que encontramos en el Evangelio de Juan hoy.

Las personas que seguían a Jesús eran conscientes de su entorno. Sabían que no había ningún lugar a donde ir y comprar comida o agua. Es inimaginable que hubieran dejado sus casas sin estar preparados, pero esto es lo que el Evangelio parece indicar. Parece que al final del día esta multitud de personas se encontraron en un lugar aislado sin nada para comer o beber; hasta que un joven les ofrece a los discípulos una pequeña cantidad de comida, ¡Entonces el milagro puede comenzar! Tradicionalmente hemos escuchado que Jesús simplemente toma los pocos panes y peces y los multiplica. Algunos expertos en las Escrituras argumentan que Jesús inspira a la multitud a compartir libremente los alimentos que llevaron consigo.

El milagro, como sea que haya sucedido, comenzó cuando alguien apareció y ofreció lo poco que tenía; incluso cuando era claramente inadecuado frente a la necesidad obvia. Se necesitaba mucha fe para ofrecer tan poco frente a tan gran necesidad. Esta es la historia real de nuestro discipulado personal: venimos con lo poco que tenemos y, gracias al ministerio de Cristo, pueden suceder cosas grandiosas. Venimos con nuestro quebrantamiento e inadecuación y Jesús puede transformarlo en algo que puede nutrir y sostener a muchos.

Se necesita valentía para compartir nuestra fe con las personas que nos rodean. El padre que puede mostrar su fe a sus hijos, aunque sea de la manera más pequeña, es una inspiración para su familia. La madre, que con palabras y ejemplo demuestra confianza en Dios, le enseña a su familia. Los esposos y las esposas que rezan juntos proclaman que Dios tiene un lugar en el hogar. No necesitamos ser predicadores o maestros grandes y poderosos, no necesitamos una fe "perfecta", ¡Tenemos que ofrecer lo poco que tenemos y dejar que el milagro comience!
